Documents of the NHMRC are prepared by panels of experts drawn from appropriate Australian academic, professional, community and government organisations. The NHMRC is grateful to these people for the excellent work they do on its behalf. This work is usually performed on an honorary basis and in addition to their usual work commitments.

The strategic intent of the National Health and Medical Research Council (NHMRC) is to provide leadership and work with other relevant organisations to improve the health of all Australians by:

- Fostering and supporting a high-quality and internationally recognised research base;
- Providing evidence-based advice;
- Applying research evidence to health issues, thus translating research into better health practice and outcomes; and
- Promoting informed debate on health and medical research, health ethics and related issues.

The National Health and Medical Research Council was first constituted in September 1936. The current legislative basis of the Council is the National Health and Medical Research Council Act 1992 (the Act). The Council is responsible to the Commonwealth Minister for Health and Ageing.

This report and its recommendations were prepared by the Review Committee on Microwave Cancer Therapy. The systematic literature review and technical writing were undertaken by Dr Adèle Weston, Dr Kristina Coleman, Dr Sarah Norris and Mr Lachlan Standfield of Health Technology Analysts Pty Ltd.

LIST OF EXCLUDED STUDIES AND REASONS FOR EXCLUSION

In order to ensure all relevant information was retrieved, all papers previously published by Dr John Holt were reviewed, irrespective of whether or not they had met the criteria for inclusion in the formal systematic literature review. Therefore, although these publications may appear below with their reason for exclusion from the systematic review, the content of each has been briefly summarised and is presented in Appendix 15 to the main report.
